Student Council Appoints Members To Co-op Board; Piano Purchased For Union

Highlighting the second meeting of the Student Council for the quarter were the appointments of Claire Canevari and Mary McCluen as representatives to the Co-op board. According to a current by-law of the council, Miss Canevari will serve on the board for one year, but Miss McCluen will remain on the board for only three months to replace Jeane Petrinovich, who is now inactive. William Shepard and Milo Badger will remain on the board as representatives from the student body.

COMMITTEE

Phyllis Edwards was voted vice chairman of the Social Affairs committee on the recommendation of the committee's head, Elaine Chadbourne. Jerry Evans will serve as Pat Moore's assistant for the coming quarter on the Rally committee.

A new piano has been purchased for the Student Union. Students are reminded by ASB President Howard Riddle that it is not to be moved from the Union under any conditions.

Organizations are asked to submit a list of members and their student body card numbers by next Monday, January 15. Place them in the Co-op box "S" in the Spartan Shop.

Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity that has been off-campus since last quarter, has been re-admitted as a campus organization.

ASB CARDS

Barbara Bressani, treasurer, announced that $314.50 worth of student body cards have been sold this quarter, with refunds from last quarter amounting to only $8.00.

It was reported by Hugh Johnston, council member, that the equipment belonging to the student body is being turned in late. Johnston reminded organizations that action will be taken against them by the Student Court.

New Members For Social Affairs Group Being Chosen

Social Affairs committee, under the direction of Elaine Chadbourne, chairman, will hold its first meeting today at 4 o'clock in the Student Union.

Anyone who is interested in being on the committee is invited to attend the meeting. New members will be chosen from those attending the first two meetings, according to Miss Chadbourne.

The Social Affairs committee is in charge of all student body affairs and dances. The committee meets every Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the Student Union to plan social events.

Soph Class Council Convenes Today In Student Union

An important meeting of the sophomore class will be held today in the Student Union. All members of the class council are advised to attend, since roll will be taken.

Officers of the class during the fall quarter will continue to serve until the middle of this quarter, when a new executive board will be elected and a new council will be chosen.

Plans for the current quarter, roughed out during last month's meetings, will be discussed, and if possible, clarified, states President June Robertson.

MISS BRETH WILL SPEAK JANUARY 10

Miss Margaret Breth, nursing arts instructor at San Jose Hospital School of Nursing, will be the guest speaker at the Pi Nu Sigma meeting Wednesday, January 10, at 12:30 in room 210 in the library.

The main topic of Miss Breth's talk will be "Profession Adjustment." She will answer many questions pertaining to the readjustment of the student nurse's life upon entering a hospital.

"Rewards Unlimited," a film released by the U. S. Public Health Corps, will also be shown at the meeting. It shows the opportunities in the nursing field open to a young nurse after graduation.

Accompanying Miss Breth will be a student nurse from the hospital who will model an outdoor nursing uniform.

Mrs. Ada Daggett, Pi Nu Sigma president, urges all pre-nursing students to attend the meeting although membership in the organization is not necessary. All new pre-nursing students are also invited to join the club as it is an opportunity to meet other students interested in nursing. A trip to the University of California hospital will be taken this quarter by the club members.

Newman Club Meets

Newman club will hold its first meeting of the year at Newman Hall Thursday evening at 7:30.

All Catholic students are urged by President Pat Keating to attend the meeting. Important business of the new year will be discussed.

Service Quintet Meets Spartans

February 1 Is Set As Deadline For Faculty Pictures

Instructions for group pictures of organizations to appear in the 1945 La Torre will be issued at a later date announces Anna Mae Diffin, yearbook editor.

February 1 has been set as the deadline for faculty members to make appointments for La Torre photographs. Twelve to 1:00 o'clock on the days between now and February 1 has been set aside especially to handle faculty appointments.

Any faculty member who wishes to use a print of a picture taken previously at Bushnell's may bring 77 cents to cover the costs. Those who have been contacted and have made arrangements to use a reprint should leave the money in the Publications office as soon as possible.

Mary Young is handling appointments, replacing Sylvia Ronning this quarter, with Jo Anne O'Brien working as her assistant.

The cover of the December 1944 issue of "Natural History" magazine was photographed in color by Dwight Bentel, head of the Journalism department now on leave, and Thane L. Bierwert, acting chief, division of photography, of the American Museum of Natural History.

Three Dall (or white) sheep, depicted in full color, form the foreground, while Mt. McKinley, Alaska, flanked by two long winding glaciers, makes up the background.

This magazine is on call in the periodical room of the library and may be examined by students.

STUDENTS LEARN WATCH MAKING IN ONLY HOROLOGY COURSE OFFERED ON WEST COAST TODAY

"We make 'em tick" is the motto of the horology class, newest industrial arts course. This class was first started October 2, 1944, with two benches, a jeweler's saw, and a few metal files, as equipment. The class had to borrow stools to sit on.

Mr. Theron O. Sowers, instructor, was employed by the Naval Observatory in Washington designing timepieces and working on chronometers.

In the shop there nine benches, some of which are equipped with jeweler's lathes. The lathes are 12 inches long and 6 inches high with motors of comparative size. Only after a student has completed a quarter is he given a lathe.

COAST GUARD FAVORED OVER WEAKENED STATERS IN CAGE TILT TONIGHT

The revised Spartan cage team tonight makes its second appearance of the quarter, meeting the very strong Coast Guard Sea Lions at 8 o'clock in the college gymnasium.

Minus the services of Ed Maggetti and Ted Holmes, two regulars on the team, the Staters have definitely lost a lot of their strength and offensive punch. However, Friday night against Pacific the made-over quintet showed some promise, playing the Tigers on even terms during the second half.

The addition of Jack Welch, former bay area star, has helped bolster team strength. Welch showed definite ability against Pacific, displaying class as a ball handler while also scoring 10 points. His presence will lessen the severity of the loss of Maggetti and Holmes.

The Spartans will run into a lot of trouble tonight in the form of Paul Napalitano, Al Conti, and Kervin Shea of the Sea Lions. This Coast Guard team Friday night defeated the strong St. Mary's Pre-Flight team, considered one of the strongest aggregations in the entire bay area, 49-47. These men have been instrumental in Coast Guard victories all season, and Friday night led the attack against the Pre-Flighters.

President T. W. MacQuarrie will appear before the State Board of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers to present the case for student housing at state college when the board convenes Wednesday and Thursday in San Jose.

MEETING

Appearing before a meeting of the board in accordance with the request of its president, Mrs. J. J. Garland, President MacQuarrie will go over the provisions of the bill providing for such student housing to be presented to this legislature. Mrs. Garland has expressed an interest in a program of student for state colleges.

The present plan to provide housing facilities for the state colleges is being written by President MacQuarrie and Dr. P. Victor Peterson, Science department head, as an outgrowth of a recent meeting of college presidents in Sacramento.

PLAN

A revolving fund of from three to five million dollars to be allocated to the state colleges, providing for the construction of student housing, is being planned. The income from the housing will return the amount to the credit of the state.

New Superintendent At Health Cottage

Mrs. Mary DeFeo, R. N., is now acting as superintendent of nursing at the McFadden Health Cottage while Mrs. Earnest Hockenbeamer, former superintendent, is on leave.

"Mrs. DeFeo has been with us for several years as night nurse, and she was kind enough to assume the responsibility as superintendent to help us out," stated Miss Margaret Twombly, Health department head.

The Health Cottage staff now includes, besides Mrs. DeFeo, Mrs. Wilhelmina Watts, Mrs. Carolyn Feil, and Mrs. Ann Akarop, nurses, and Mrs. Hattie Wright, cook. Mrs. Watts recently transferred to the Health Cottage from San Jose Hospital.

Mrs. Haines Begins Duties As Cook

Mrs. Minnie Haines is starting her duties as new cook of the school cafeteria this week. She replaces Mrs. Ivy Triplett, former cafeteria cook, who left last quarter.

Mrs. Haines, who has had many years of experience in this field, plans to stay the remainder of the school year.

Vet Council

San Jose State college veterans are fortunate in having here on campus the advisement center of the vocational rehabilitation and education division of the United States Veterans administration. This office which serves five counties is located in room 16 and is under the supervision of Earl Adams.

Approximately 66 men on campus are attending college under the government plan providing for discharged servicemen. There are two educational programs functioning under this plan. The first is the "G.I. Bill of Rights" which provides one year of training for 90 days of service, matching year for year for time over 90 days, up to a maximum of four years.

Men under this program select their own courses, are paid $50 a month if single, and $75 if married. The program also covers the cost of tuition, books, and additional fees.

About 50 of the men on campus are under this program, while 16 are under the vocational rehabilitation law serving veterans handicapped as a result of combat injuries, illness, or loss or impairment of faculties. This program emphasizes counsel and advisement in setting up a definite training objective, bringing the men to the stage of employability, and trying to secure jobs for them.

The on-campus location of the office is convenient and provides an opportunity for the vets attending college to have ready access to information and advice.

Teresi.

STUDENTS MAY ENTER CONTEST GIVEN BY DRAMATISTS' ALLIANCE FOR ASPIRING PLAYWRIGHTS

If you are an aspiring playwright, you will be interested in the contest sponsored by Dramatists' Alliance of Stanford university.

Dramatists' Alliance of Stanford university offers four awards in dramatic writing in the tenth annual competitions of the organization.

The Stevens award of one hundred dollars is offered for serious plays of full length in either prose or verse; the Etherage award of one hundred dollars will go to the writer of the best full-length comedy sent in. Brief plays of one act or in short unified scenes may compete for the Alden award of fifty dollars. The Gray award of twenty-five dollars is offered for dramatic criticism in lucid, vigorous style.

The most produceable of the plays among these competitions will be staged in the summer of 1945 during Dramatists' Assembly. All prize-winning items, and the leading contributions among the works given honorable mention, are recommended to producing and publishing units of established worth. The contests are open to all persons who write in English.

Other privileges extended to contributors include opportunity to obtain brief critiques of their work for a nominal fee of three dollars beyond the registration fee; introduction of promising dramatists to members of the alliance already placed in theater and cinema, for advice and assistance; and the appearance of every item contributed in the contests, in the lists of the bulletin issued each year and sent to libraries and producing groups and individuals throughout the country.

Writers should send for registration forms and information as early as possible; final date of this season's competitions is March 25, 1945. Address all communications to Dramatists' Alliance, Box 200Z, Stanford university, California.

Music Building Janitor Retires

Ernest J. Snook, janitor of the Music building since it was an intermediate training school, has resigned his position.

Mr. Snook has swept up after a score of generations of Spartans, and now he plans to return to England as soon as conditions permit. He left his home in Sembley, Summerset, England, in 1904; and since 1906 he has been in San Jose.

As a remembrance, a dark brown leather travelling bag, accompanied by a hand-printed card, was presented to him by Mu Phi Epsilon, Phi Mu Alpha and the Music faculty.

Student Housing Will Be Discussed

of the revolving fund, and in this way the dormitories will pay for themselves in about twenty-five years, according to President MacQuarrie.

PROVISIONS

"California and New York are about the only two states in the union that have not made provisions for student housing at their state colleges. Both now are conscious of the need and are presenting bills to correct that deficiency," President MacQuarrie stated.

SEA LIONS VS. STATE TONIGHT

Francisco, while Shea played college ball at St. Mary's in the same circuit.

We stated in an article yesterday that the Coast Guard was being piloted by Lt. Joe Verducci, which was incorrect. Lieutenant George Arabian, former St. Mary's collegiate star, is now in charge of the club.

Hopes for a Spartan victory are extremely remote, but if you want to see a lot of basketball played at its best, you will have the opportunity tonight when the Coast Guard invades the Spartan gym.
